

ISSUE THEIR CALL TO GOLD DEMOCRATS.

Democratic Party Reform Organization to Elect Delegates for Syracuse.

Ultimate Object Is the Selection of Representatives at the Indianapolis Convention.

G. F. PEABODY, TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

Will Lead the Executive Committee Until Another Man Is Chosen—State Democracy to Follow Suit Soon.

The State Committee of the Democratic Party Reform Organization, which met late on Tuesday night, at the Reform Club, continued in session yesterday and issued the following call:

The electors of the Democratic Party Reform Organization are requested to meet in their several Assembly districts to choose delegates, three from each Assembly district, to the State Convention to be held at Indianapolis, September 2, 1896, and to nominate or provide for the nomination of Presidential electors, Governor and other State officers, to be chosen at the next election, or to take such action in the premises as the convention may determine to be advisable, and to transact all business proper to be then considered by the party in this State.

In this great crisis of our country and our party we earnestly ask the co-operation of all Democrats of New York who reject the Chicago platform and nominees, and who believe that labor should be paid in honest dollars, and that debts, public and private, should not be repudiated, but should be scrupulously paid; of all Democrats who would defeat the attack now sacrilegiously made in the name of Democracy on industry and thrift, and would prevent from that attack savings bank depositors, pensioners of the war beneficiaries of life insurance and earners of honest wages in every form, and of all Democrats who have been and who are loyal to the principles and policy to which the Democracy has steadfastly adhered for more than a century.

The following persons were named as additional members of the State Committee:

George F. Peabody and Edward M. Shepard, of Brooklyn; Mayor Patrick Gleason, of Long Island City; Dr. M. O'Brien, of Astoria; Simon Harold, of Albany; General John E. Mulcahy, of Havana; Daniel A. Ogden, of Pennington; Charles Roe, of Rochester; J. J. Biggs, of Port Jervis; Irving H. Palmer, of Cortland; Henry H. Graves, of Geneva, and W. H. Clark, of Watkiss.

The Executive Committee was constituted in part as follows: Robert A. Widenmann, John De Witt Warner, Robert Grier Monroe, George Foster Peabody, Charles Tracey and Franklin L. Locke. Mr. Peabody will act as temporary chairman.

It was said last night that the convention would probably have been nominated of a State ticket to the Executive Committee, with power to either endorse or nominate, and will simply name the delegates to the Indianapolis Convention.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the State Democracy was held last night and appointed a committee to arrange for the election of delegates to the Syracuse Convention. This committee will issue the call that are necessary and make a report to the Executive Committee at a meeting to be held next Monday night.

SHEPARDITES REBEL.

At the Meeting of the Executive Committee a Bryan Sentiment Is Developed.

The Executive Committee of the Shepard Democracy met at the Clarendon Hotel on Washington street, Brooklyn, last night. All of the wards of the city had delegates present except the Tenth and Thirty-first. The report showed that a revolt was evident in the organization against the gold standard.

The Thirteenth and Fifteenth wards showed clearly that they would stand for Bryan and Sewall. These two wards are made up of workmen and small property owners.

Speeches were made by Edward M. Shepard, Jacob S. Van Wyck, Theodore P. Nye, George Foster Peabody, Daniel Morgan and J. W. Riggs in favor of a third ticket and a gold standard.

The result of the conference will be brought up at a meeting of the County Committee at the Criterion Theatre tomorrow evening, and the stand to be taken by the organization in the coming election will then be decided upon.

LOST BOARDER AND JEWELS.

Mrs. Seiler Charges Leon with Stealing $1,400 Worth of Diamonds and Cash.

James Leon, of No. 422 West Forty-seventh street, this city, was arrested at the Erie depot, Jersey City, last night on a charge of grand larceny preferred by Mrs. Emma Seiler, of No. 32 West Sixty-second street, New York.

Leon up to a week ago boarded at Mrs. Seiler's house. When he left she missed $1,200 worth of diamonds and $276 in cash.

He was traced to Jersey City, and last night arrested as he stepped from a train. Leon had shaved off his mustache and otherwise disguised himself, but was easily recognized by Mrs. Seiler. Leon says he does not recall the events of the past week and denies the theft.

STRAY POLL CRIES "MAMMA."

Mrs. Seifert, to Whose House It Flew, Will Give It to the Zoo.

Mrs. H. Racer, who occupies the top flat of No. 540 East Eighty-fourth street, went to the roof last Saturday to dry some clothes and found a parrot of the macaw species perched on the clothes line. She captured it and turned it over to Mrs. H. Seifert, the landlady.

Mrs. Seifert called on Superintendent J. W. Smith, of the menagerie at Central Park, yesterday, and ascertained that the parrot had not escaped from the aviary. The bird is large, with red tail and head and black wings. The only word it has uttered is "Mamma." Mr. Smith will take charge of it.

CHOSE A BULLET FOR LOVE'S TROUBLES.

Jeannot Pearl, a Frenchman, Tried to End His Life on an Ulmer Park Pier.

Grabbed by Detective Mulvey as He Placed the Revolver to His Temple.

INFATUATED WITH EDNA HAMBURGER.

Wanted to Marry Her, but Her Parents Objected Because He Was of a Different Religion.

An excited Frenchman wearing a heavy beard and a dark suit of clothes, last night attracted the attention of Detective Mulvey, of Bath Beach, by his queer actions in a Coney Island trolley car.

The detective boarded the car with the intention of watching the man, who later described himself as Jeannot Pearl. He left the car at Bensonhurst and entered a barber shop. He surprised the barber by divesting himself of a false beard, with which he had been disguised. After having his face washed by the barber, he left without again assuming the disguise.

The detective, who had been watching the man through the window, followed him to a furnishing goods store near by. There the Frenchman took off his hat, coat and vest and substituted for them a new Fedora hat and a coat and vest of light material.

After paying for the articles he boarded a trolley car bound for Coney Island. The detective did likewise and when the Frenchman alighted at Ulmer Park, Mulvey was close behind him.

The man walked hurriedly to the end of the pier, and as he did so the detective quickened his pace. When he reached the end of the pier Pearl slowly drew a revolver of large calibre from his hip pocket. He was just raising the weapon to his right temple when the detective sprang upon him from the rear. Pearl pulled the trigger at that moment, but the bullet went wild.

Detective Mulvey wrenched the revolver from the man's grasp after a struggle. The would-be suicide fought like a man, but soon lost his breath and was overpowered. The man was handcuffed and taken to the Bath Beach Police Station. There he told the Sergeant that he resided at No. 112 West One Hundred and Fifth street, this city. In explanation of his conduct, the prisoner said that he was tired of life, because of his love for a girl named Edna Hamburger, whom he said lived in Brooklyn. He said he would have married her, but for the opposition of her parents, who did not approve of their daughter marrying out of her religion.

He was locked up, and will be arraigned this morning in the Fort Hamilton Court.

GLEASON OFF THE FENCE.

Has Decided Now for a Gold Standard, and Will Make a Run for the Gubernatorial Nomination.

Mayor Gleason, of Long Island City, said four weeks ago that he was for Bryan and for free silver. Tuesday afternoon he said he had not made up his mind where he stood. Yesterday he said he was for a gold standard and then added:

"And I am out for the Governorship, too. Last Fall when they refused to recognize me in the State Convention, I told them I'd make them trouble yet and I will, even if I have to hold a separate convention. A Queens County gold standard committee will be organized, and I will probably be its chairman. We will carry the county. I will probably be endorsed by the Shepard Democracy of Kings County. I shall take the stump and make a lengthy campaign."

Mayor Gleason acted as a vice-president at the Cockran meeting and says he was converted. But the Jeffersonian Democrats, who were recognized, as against his organization, in the State Convention, have declared for Bryan, and his opponents say he is simply looking for a party emblem to put his nomination under on the ballots.

Gleason's following, heretofore, has been largely laboring men, nearly all of whom have now declared for Bryan. Gleason has supported many Republicans in his old career, has run several times for the Assembly and Senate and in 1893 nominated himself for both Assembly and Senate.

HERBERT REACHES ENGLAND.

Cruiser Minneapolis Fires a Salute in Honor of the Secretary.

Southampton, Aug. 19.—Hilary A. Herbert, United States Secretary of the Navy, with his daughter, arrived here to-day on board the St. Louis. As the St. Louis passed Netley, southeast of this port, the United States cruiser Minneapolis, lying at anchor, fired a salute in honor of Mr. Herbert, and Admiral Selfridge and his staff, in full uniform, met the Secretary upon the dock when he landed.

Views of the New Home for the Association of the Bar.

The new building of the Association of the Bar, at No. 42 West Forty-fourth street, is rapidly nearing completion, and will probably be formally opened in October, with a large reception in honor of Lord Charles Russell, Chief Justice of England.

The building was designed by Cyrus L. W. Elditz, and is one of the noblest in this city. The facade, classic in design, is divided into four stories, and is of Indiana limestone. The superb hallway, entered through a vestibule, recessed back from the front, is finished with Pavanazzo and Numidian marbles, and subdivided by two rows of polished columns of the same material, with white marble caps and bases. It is thirty feet in width, and extends through the entire depth of the lot, 200 feet. On the floor above, the central portion is devoted to a reception room thirty feet in width and seventy-five in length. The color scheme used in furnishing this room is old blue and Pompeian red.

EXPRESS STRIKE SPREADS.

Southern and Western Employes of the Adams to Be Called Out and Switchmen May Join in the Movement.

The Adams Express strike is to spread. At a meeting held by the strikers at their headquarters, Franklin Hall, Jersey City, last yesterday afternoon it was decided to call for a sympathetic strike among all the Southern and Western employes, unless by tomorrow the company recedes from the stand taken by it on Friday. The rehiring of all discharged employes and strikers who went out of strike is demanded. All strikers in Jersey City have made overtures to the Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association, whose members are employed in the Pennsylvania Railroad yards, with a view to a sympathetic strike of switchmen. No decision has been reached. A member of the Executive Board of the strikers said yesterday afternoon:

"The switchmen would not be asked to strike except as a last resort. We feel that we are bound to win the strike any way. We did not call out all our men because we want to be kept informed of how the land lies. I am positive that the Adams Company is losing heavily and is not moving one-fifth of the freight it could move with experienced men. Besides, the company is hiring the new men without references, and they are bound to have crooks among the men they hire."

Mr. Superintendent Temple admitted that they had been taking on the new men without references.

Six wagons, because of careless driving by the green men, were wrecked yesterday. One was run down by a trolley car and the horses and driver badly injured.

ONE OF A PARTY DROWNED.

Catboat Capsizes and Dr. Alters Sinks While His Companions Swim Ashore.

A party of three, comprised of Dr. John W. Alters, of No. 114 Nassau avenue, Greenpoint; Louis Krepps, of No. 564 Graham avenue, Williamsburg, and Duke Jackson, who resides on Bergen Island, yesterday afternoon started for a sail in a catboat which they hired at Bergen Beach.

They had been out for some time when the boat was captured by a swift current in Flat Creek, about half a mile from the beach. The occupants were thrown into the water and Dr. Alters drowned. The other two men managed to swim ashore. The body of the drowned man was recovered late last night and removed to his home in Greenpoint.

BICYCLE THIEF AT HIS WORK.

Steals a Newark Firm's Wheels and Sells One in Orange.

Orange, N. J., Aug. 19.—A clever bicycle thief has been successfully operating in this vicinity of late, and this morning a case was reported to the East Orange police of a man wearing a full bicycle suit who had on August 8 leased from the Waltham Manufacturing Company, of Broad street, Newark, two bicycles. He gave him name as Nat Welton, and address No. 240 Sixth street, Roseville. The stranger never returned.

At East Orange on the same day he played a clever trick on Mr. Fowler, of Fowler & Knifeman, 10 No. 314 Main street. He went into the firm's store and, claiming his wheel had broken down, he offered to sell it for $7. Mr. Fowler at once paid the price asked. Later it was learned that the wheel was stolen. To-day the Newark dealers made a claim on the bicycle.

LOST ALL TASTE IN TWO DAYS.

Schulenburg, Texas, Aug. 4, 1896.

J. J. McKenna writes you the following certificate:

"It is the only cure I have ever known extolling the virtues of any patent medicine or secret formula in my twenty-four years' experience as a physician. I had been a very hard and constant drinker for the past fifteen years. I entered the J. J. McKenna Hospital Sanatorium on November 24, 1895, and on November 29 (just two days) I had lost all desire for whiskey and tobacco, the latter I had been using thirty-five years. I remained at the sanatorium nine days and then continued the treatment for four weeks at home. I can cheerfully say I am in good health, have no desire for strong drink, and very seldom any for tobacco. The McKenna treatment is entirely different from the hygienic treatment as described in Lea's Medical News, March, 1895. There is no doubt in my mind that any man or woman can be cured of liquor, morphine and tobacco habits if they will take the medicine, obey instructions and are willing to be cured."

Murphy's lower jaw came in contact with the iron bars and snapped off at the middle.

Mrs. Murphy was glum and inactive for some time after the accident, refusing to eat her favorite delicacy, green apples, and spurning hay as if it were poison.

Although she is usually very obedient to the call of the keeper, she paid little attention to his voice for several hours. An examination of the stump in her jaw was made later, and it seemed that the nerve of the tooth was not left exposed. Mr. Smith said he saw no occasion to treat the tooth just yet, but that he could tell later on.
